

Joni & Friends

Surrounding a floating chapel, the surface of the pool is dark, reflective, and perfectly still. Four skylights above the pool illuminate square shapes on the water equally spaced apart, suggesting the outline of a cross. Water gently falls down one side of the pool facing the reception area to create an infinity-edge water wall with gentle cascading water effect. Series of cove lights illuminate the area underneath the chapel to enhance the floating effect.

Type

Water feature and reflecting pool in a lobby

Materials

absolute black granite

Location

Agoura Hills, CA

Architect

Gensler