

Los Angeles Residence

This graceful and intriguing textured granite water wall, framed in Cor-ten steel, which is both corrosion resistant and allows for tensile strength, gives the appearance that the water wall is floating over a concealed basin with submerged lighting fixtures. Set in a private residential courtyard in Los Angeles, CA, this water wall generates a peaceful and visually enticing backdrop to the outdoor space.

Type

Water wall in private courtyard

Materials

ridged absolute black granite

Location

Los Angeles, CA

Architect

Orange Street Studio