

Promenade Square

These two free-standing large copper water sculptures located at The Promenade in Long Beach, CA were created to reflect its seaside location. The water sculptures each have copper relief panels that represent the seafloor topography of Long Beach Harbor. The copper relief panels have multiple patina colors and textures to create various water effects, allowing the water feature to bring vibrancy to this public outdoor space.

Type

Water sculptures for public courtyard

Materials

copper with bronze patina

Location

Long Beach, CA