

The Trails

A custom reflective curved water basin is the main focal point in a private residence in Orange County California. Made from polished stainless steel, and black river rock at its base, the classically designed water feature brings texture and light to this secluded courtyard. Designed so the water cascades down the basin, the soothing sounds of flowing water create a tranquil setting.

Type

Curved water basin in polished stainless steel

Materials

Stainless steel

Location

Lakeforest, CA