

City National Plaza

Located within the City National Plaza, this water feature creates an urban oasis in the middle of downtown Los Angeles. Water Studio collaborated with Pankow Builders, and the Benitt Design Group on this 45 ft. long rectangular reflective pool. Made of black granite, the infinity edge pool creates a water wall that freely over flows down to polished river rocks. Set in a tucked away courtyard, the streamlined design is a lovely contrast to the adjacent natural foliage and rough stone wall, as well as mirroring the modern architectural landscape of the surrounding city.
