

The Vintage Club Waterfalls

Water Studio recently completed four free-falling waterfalls at the entry gate of The Vintage Club, a private golf club in Indian Wells, California. This design-build project consisted of a redesign of an existing water feature along with full-size mock-ups, fabrication, and on-site services to install dramatic water falls that can be seen from a distance. This multi-tiered grand water feature welcomes club members and guests, creating an impressive statement from the moment they pass through the entry gates.
