

Tower Road Water Sculpture

A colorful sculpture created by Brad Howe appears to levitate atop a granite water feature. The water feature is the focal point of the backyard and marks the entrance of the modern guest house. As water overflows atop the infinity edge pool and cascades down the sides constructed of ridged granite, variations of textures glisten in the sunlight and reflect on the colorful sculpture hovering above it. At dusk, the reflections are not only captured on the surfaces of the metal sculpture, but they create illuminated patterns across the finished ceiling floating above it.

TYPE
Granite water sculpture

MATERIAL
Granite

LOCATION
Beverly Hills, CA

ARCHITECT
Landry Design Group