

Altair Irvine Rectangular Trough

One of two water features designed for a home in the Altair Irvine development, in Irvine, CA., this rectangular trough water feature is made of polished stainless steel with bubbling nozzles to create tranquil water sounds as it greets visitors. A dark reflecting pool is complemented by water falling over polished stainless steel surfaces.

Type
Fountain

Materials
Stainless steel, beach pebbles

Location
Irvine, CA

Architect
Summers Murphy and Partners