

San Onofre Copper Sculpture

A stunning copper water wall with a rich bronze patina stands opposite the front door of a luxury home in the hills of Pacific Palisades, CA. Inspired by a deconstructed wave, this water sculpture harmonizes seamlessly with the surrounding landscape, infusing the entryway courtyard with a tranquil and inviting ambiance. Thoughtfully designed with contrasting curved and flat surfaces, the structure enhances the natural flow of cascading water, creating a mesmerizing visual effect. At night, underwater lighting accentuates the fluid patterns moving across the sculpture's surface, making it a captivating focal point even from within the home.

Type
Sculptural Water Wall

Material
Copper

Location
Pacific Palisades, CA