

Malibu Stainless Steel Sculptures

A collection of three stainless steel sculptures stand at the entry way of a contemporary home in Malibu, California. Strategically designed to mimic the curvature of the house, the sculptures compliment the surrounding architecture, yet add a unique, captivating element to the outside patio. Cascading water creates vibrant reflections off the stainless steel surfaces, reflecting the existing greenery surrounding the sculptures as well as the illuminated pond below.

Type

Sculptures with pool

Materials

Stainless steel

Location

Malibu, CA

Architect

Landry Design Group

General Contractor

Albino Construction, Inc.