

Sage Glendale Stainless Steel Sculpture

This water feature completes Sage Glendale Senior Living's new luxury community in Glendale, CA. Composed of two stainless steel circular halves this dynamic feature highlights a variety of water textures. Measuring 3-feet-tall the sculpture's upper trough is a reflecting pool that spills water over each surface falling off at the bottom edge to form individual drops. This project is both visually elegant and audibly vibrant to create a welcoming space for residents and visitors alike.
