

Downtown Copper Podium Sculptures

A set of five copper podium sculptures spans a 10 ft. width at the base of a staircase in a high-rise building situated in Downtown Los Angeles. These sculptures feature a combination of smooth and ridged surfaces, and they are elegantly finished with a dark bronze patina. Each sculpture possesses a unique shape that maintains a cohesive connection with the overall group. At the upper pool, water gathers to create a mirror-like reflection before gently cascading down the sides and gracefully descending from a lower edge. This family of sculptures serves as a welcoming sight for both staff and clients, creating a tranquil and soothing ambiance within the commercial office space.

Type
Water Sculptures

Materials
Copper

Location
Los Angeles, CA

Architect
Aref & Associates

General Contractor
Clune Construction