

The Madison Club

Three mesmerizing Water Veils and two Studiomaade Infinity fountains accent a courtyard in a contemporary residence within The Madison Club, an exclusive private residential community located in La Quinta, California. Standing nearly 11 ft. tall, the Water Veils sit just beneath the finished ceiling to seamlessly integrate into the surrounding architecture. Water cascades down the stainless steel mesh screens, creating captivating waves that add a soothing ambiance to the modern courtyard. Nearby two Studiomaade Infinities flank the entrance to the home's expansive living room adding the sound and movement of water created by three central illuminated nozzles.

Type

Water Veil and Studiomaade Infinity

Materials

Stainless Steel, Granite

Location

La Quinta, CA

General Contractor

Richard Doan Construction