

Concrete Bowl Fountain at Mission Cancer Center

The fountain at Mission Cancer Center features water falling down a concrete bowl centered in a recessed stainless steel basin covered with beach pebbles. Water rises from a clear nozzle surrounded by tumbled glass pebbles and illuminated with underwater lighting from below. This water feature provides a tranquil and relaxing element to the outdoor area of the new medical center.

Type

Fountain

Materials

Stainless steel, concrete

Location

Mission Viejo, CA

Architect

Rabben/Herman Design Office

General Contractor

Snyder Langston