

Waldorf Astoria Beverly Hills

The motor court water feature at the Waldorf Astoria in Beverly Hills is composed of three overflowing sculptural bronze tiered pools. The lower tier's edge consists of more than 120 custom-fabricated spouts to create the pleasing sound of falling water rivulets that help to conceal noise from the nearby street. A frothy nozzle at the top tier provides additional water effect and movement. Underwater lights illuminate the nozzle, rivulets, and bronze surfaces to provide a dramatic welcoming statement.
